

Title: Case#4-73B

Author: Detectives' Findings

No whitnesses so far, nor to I expect to find any this time of year.

Material findings:

2 differing colors of

Meer fur were found

inside the home of :

Nostre Stebbin.

The victim was burned to death by alchemical means as grave dust and orange liquid was found around the body. It wont be easy this day in age but il be taking this grave dust to Britian to check it for sediments. Perhaps we can pin down where this or these killers came from. Until then we only have the profile of a

Meer of either gender

adept with alchemy.

There was also this meaningless book of

gibberish amung Stebbin's belongings. May be a cultural monolouge of sorts. Never seen

anythign like it myself.